Conspiracy with Booze Runners Alleged in Indictments

East St. Louis, Ill., Nov. 14—(AP)—The federal grand jury today concluded its investigation of liquor law enforcement in Alexander county, Ill., by returning two conspiracy indictments, in which were named 72 defendants, including Sheriff Leslie B. Roche of Cairo, nine deputy sheriffs, a Cairo policeman and a miscellaneous assortment of saloon keepers and alleged liquor runners.

United States Attorney Baker today released the names of 13 defendants named in the indictments. The other names were withheld pending arrest. The 13 include Sheriff Roche, Ernest Pink, his Chief Deputy, Joseph Mulhan, a deputy, Louise Jones and Richard Fitzgerald, former deputies; George C. Crawford, a saloon keeper; Frank Stanfield and Fred Newberg, proprietors of the Gateway Club at Cairo, and Henry Hethman, Gaither Moore, Harvey Gordon, Clarence White and C. Dewey Bryant.

In the indictments are charged fourteen overt acts which are alleged to prove existence of a conspiracy. It is specifically charged that the Sheriff and his deputies exacted a tribute of 50 cents a gallon for mash made in the county; that they seized stills and turned them over to favored operators for further use, that they operated a plan under which violators were systematically warned of the approach of federal agents, and that four stills were actually operated in a farm owned by Sheriff Roche.

EXTEND INQUIRY

St. Louis, Nov. 16—(AP)—The Post-Dispatch said today an alleged connection of county and municipal officials of Williamson county with the liquor running activities of the late Charley Birger and his gang of gunmen is under investigation by a federal grand jury in East St. Louis, Ill.

The inquiry follows an investigation of an alleged liquor conspiracy in Alexander County, Ill., in connection with Sheriff Leslie B. Roche, four of his five deputies and 35 other persons, arrested last July, now are held under bond.

In the Williamson county investigation, the newspaper said, federal officials hope particularly to establish a closer connection between a Williamson county official and the Birger gang, under which its members were allowed to exercise a monopoly of the liquor business in the county with immunity from arrest.

Art Newman, life term convict and former lieutenant of Birger is one of the witnesses. Convicted of complicity in the murder of Mayor Joe Adams of West City, Newman will also undergo trial at Marion, Ill., for the murder of Highway Patrolman Lory Price and Mrs. Price.

Funeral of Former Dixon Lady Monday

Oliver M. Rogers returned home this morning from Los Angeles, Cal., where he was summoned to the bedside of his mother, Mrs. Joanna Rogers, who passed away Wednesday morning, Nov. 14, at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Rogers will be remembered by many residents of Dixon, having made Dixon her home for a number of years.

She left this city in 1912, going to Los Angeles, where she had since made her home with her daughters, Misses Josephine and Berdella Rogers. She was taken ill about five months ago, her death coming at the age of 87 years. The body will be brought through Dixon and taken to Minonk, where funeral services will be conducted from the Methodist church at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, with interment at that place.

Arrange Date First Meet Teachers' Assn.

The executive committee of the Rock River division of the Illinois State Teachers' Association at a meeting here recently, decided the date and place for the 1929 meeting. The teachers of Whiteside, Ogle, Lee and DeKalb counties who comprise the new branch of the state association will meet Friday, October 18 at DeKalb, the sessions to be held in the auditorium of the teacher's college in that city.

Dixon People Back After Tour Abroad

(Telegraph Special Service) New York—On the White Star liner "Maestri" which arrived in New York Tuesday from Cherbourg and Southampton, were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bacharach of Dixon, Ill., who have been traveling in England, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Italy and France for the past ten weeks on a pleasure trip.

KANKAKEE DEPT. STORE FUEL OF VICIOUS FLAMES

Bank Building Threatened: Help Needed from Other Towns

Kankakee, Ill., Nov. 16—(AP)—Kankakee's largest department store was destroyed and several neighboring structures in the downtown district were damaged by fire that started late last night and was quelled, with the help of fire companies from Joliet and Chicago Heights, at 4 o'clock this morning.

Celino's department store was the principal sufferer, its walls alone remaining and most of its stock destroyed. The flames reached out to the First Trust & Savings Bank building, damaged Gov. Len Small's private office, and threatened the destruction of several adjoining buildings. The origin of the fire was undetermined.

The damage was estimated between $300,000 and $400,000.

New Type of Street Sign is on Display

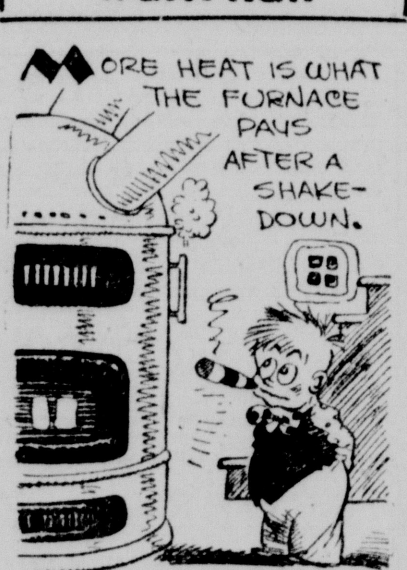

A very attractive and durable street marking sign has been placed at the southwest corner of Galena avenue and Second street, which is attracting the attention of many citizens. The street marker is a sample which was submitted to the city council recently, the manufacturer asking that the sign be placed up for public inspection.

For some time the city council has been considering a system of marking the streets and avenues and a number of different types of signs have been submitted. The council has been investigating these for a sign which will be both attractive and durable, as it is expected that the remarking of the streets and avenues of Dixon will be an important part of the program of civic improvement to be undertaken by the council next year.

Traveling Man Runs Into Trouble Here

Enver Shaw of El Paso, Ill., a traveling salesman, was arrested by Officers Bohnstiel and Glessner last evening on First street near Galena avenue and taken to the police station, where he was placed in a cell. This morning a charge of driving an automobile while in an intoxicated condition was preferred against Shaw and he was assessed a fine of $100 and the costs, which was paid.

FEDERAL ATTORNEY TO FIX BLAME FOR TRAGEDY OF SEAS

Six Passengers are Heard at First Afternoon of the Inquiry

New York, Nov. 16—(AP)—Frank Johnson, Chief Officer of the Vestris, and three minor officers were served with subpoenas today to appear before the federal inquiry into the disaster.

Earlier in the day Federal Attorney Charles H. Tuttle had announced that Johnson could not be found. Government agents, however, eventually reached him at the Hotel Holiday to which he had gone after arriving here on a rescue ship.

The other officers subpoenaed were J. O. Bulger, Second Officer; H. L. Welland, Third Officer, and Charles Verchere, third wireless officer. The four were expected to testify this afternoon.

Wants Messages

Continuing his investigation of the sinking and the loss of 111 lives, Attorney Tuttle today had under subpoena the wireless correspondence between Captain Carey of the Vestris and the boat's owners, the Lamport & Holt Line.

WYOMING LANDED SURVIVORS FROM VESTRIS TODAY

Five Women are Among Those Rescued by U. S. Warship

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 16—(AP)—Exhausted from hours of exposure at sea, eight survivors of the foundering of the steamship Vestris were safely ashore here today, regaining strength by much-needed rest.

Of the group, five were women, one of whom had lost her husband and a child, two others their husbands, and a fourth, who also lost a child, learned that her husband had come safely through the great tragedy of the seas. The eight were brought into Hampton Roads yesterday by the Battleship Wyoming.

Mrs. Norman K. Batten of Brooklyn, N. Y., was acclaimed as one of the heroines of the disaster. Thrown finally into the water, Mrs. Batten kept her husband afloat as long as life remained, and at length was forced to relinquish her hold, before help arrived.

Mrs. Elvira Fernandez Ruiz of New Bedford, Mass., had lost both husband and child. Mrs. Mary Ulrich of New York had lost a child but learned that her husband was safe and Mrs. Dolores Barriero Doril of Brooklyn had been informed that her husband was picked up alive at sea. Mme. Teruko Inouye mourned the loss of her husband, who was on his way to Buenos Aires to assume his post at Japanese Consul there.

Negro Hailed as Hero
Among the three men, who were all Negroes, was one who was hailed as a hero. He was Gerald Burton, a stalwart fireman.

"If it hadn't been for Gerald, we wouldn't be here," was the comment of Mrs. Batten just before she lapsed into sleep at the Naval Hospital last night.

When the lifeboat capsized, Burton was one of the men who helped to right it and assist the women to re-enter. The capsizing and righting continued six times and at last the fifty or sixty survivors had become a mere handful. Burton found himself struggling along side Mrs. Batten and Mrs. Ulrich.

"Stay with me and I won't let you drown," they quoted the Negro as saying.

Another of the Negroes, Joseph Boxill, was hoisted by a rope from a piece of wreckage where he was found in an unconscious condition.

Violation of Law
A story of violation of the first stern law of the sea—women and children first—was brought to the Wyoming officers by the women survivors along with a theory from the stokers that the Vestris was possibly unfit for sea before she left port in New York.

Mrs. Batten told them that she

"VESTRIS SAFE" IS LAST REPORT OF INSPECTORS

Three U. S. Officers in Final Examination of Big Liner

New York, Nov. 16—(AP)—Records of the inspection of the Vestris made by three United States Department of Commerce inspectors and agents of Lloyd's, the English maritime insurance organization, show the liner was regarded in perfect condition before she sailed.

The ship presumably was gone over from stem to stern, as the reports were made on boilers, engines, lifeboats and other lifesaving equipment, hull, plating, pumps, water tight doors, double bottom and watertightness of the ballast tanks.

The three United States inspectors were Edward Keane, in the service 17 years, F. N. Bruning and Frederick L. Dennis. Keane and Bruning both are licensed masters.

The inspection was begun November 2, continued the next day, resumed on November 5 and completed November 7, three days before the boat sailed.

Keane said that to determine the efficiency of the lifeboats they were filled with stoves and members of the crew and lowered to the water at the pier in Hoboken.

"There was not the slightest difficulty in accomplishing this," he said. "If the crew of the Vestris required two hours or more in getting the boats over, it was their inefficiency rather than the inefficiency or condition of the boats."

He said the Vestris had fourteen lifeboats, two more than required by law.

Owens left home Saturday night, telling his mother and father that he would return. He failed to put in an appearance Sunday and when it was reported that Owens had been seen on the Jefferson street bridge about 1 o'clock Sunday morning, his father consulted the police.

The discovery of the suicide note, carefully placed in the tin can and covered over with a handkerchief strengthened the theory that Owens had taken his life. The young man was never able to keep a job, according to the statement made by his father to the police and had been living apart from his wife, Edith, for that reason.

Developments in the investigation late yesterday afternoon satisfied the police that the young man had suicided by jumping into Rock river and dragging operations were begun this morning with the result that the body was recovered within a short time.

Iowa Survivor of Ill-fated Ship in Chicago

Chicago, Nov. 16—(AP)—Looking none the worse, except nervous, for having stared at death and hungry sharks for 17 hours in a life boat, Dr. August Groman, 73, of Odebolt, Iowa, oldest survivor on the ill fated Vestris, arrived here today on his way home.

Dr. Groman was accompanied by W. P. Adams, a fellow townsman, who survived the experience with him.

"The lifeboats of the Vestris were unseaworthy," he said. "In our boat, it took four men, working incessantly, to keep it afloat, so badly did it leak. There were 45 persons in it, with standing room only."

"The sea tossed heavily and threatened every minute to dash the rickety life boat to pieces. We came alongside another boat with fewer survivors in it and after difficult maneuvering in the rough seas, succeeded in transferring about half of our passengers."

Dr. W. J. Groman of Hammond, Ind., and Mrs. J. D. Day of Chicago, the doctor's son and daughter, with several sobbing relatives, met the elder Dr. Groman when he alighted from the Twentieth Century.

"COULDN'T THINK" WROTE ROCKFORD MAN; TOOK LIFE

Body Found in River at Jefferson Street this Morning

(Telegraph Special Service)

Rockford, Nov. 16—Rockford police who headed a searching party, dragging Rock river in the vicinity of the Jefferson street bridge, this morning recovered the body of John J. Owens, 25, who is believed to have committed suicide at an early hour Sunday morning by leaping into the river from the center span of the bridge.

A suicide note which had been placed in an empty tin can and covered with a handkerchief, was found on the center span of the bridge structure yesterday and turned over to the police. The note read as follows:

"Dear Pa and Ma:

"For two months something has been wrong with my mind. The way I acted I could not help. I could not use my mind in the way I wanted to, just like I couldn't think. You and ma were always good to me and gave me the best of everything, but I would have done this sooner or later because I could hardly stand to live the way my mind was. Good-bye everybody."

"Jack."

Washington, Nov. 16—(AP)—Justice Jennings Bailey today adjourned until Monday the perjury trial of Robert W. Stewart, Chairman of the Board of the Indiana Standard Oil Company, without ruling on the defense motion that he direct a verdict of not guilty.

Washington, Nov. 16—(AP)—The government rested its case today in the perjury trial of Robert W. Stewart, Chairman of the Board of the Indiana Standard Oil Company of Indiana, and defense counsel moved immediately that the court direct the jury to return a verdict of "not guilty."

As the last witness, Senator Nye of North Dakota, testified the oil man had sworn to the Senate public lands committee last February that "he had never received personally" any of the bonds of the Continental Trading Company. Earlier Roy J. Barnett, tax commissioner for Stewart's company, had told of acting as trustee for $759,000 of the bonds at the oil man's request.

With the jury excluded Jesse C. Adkins argued for the defense that an acquittal should be directed by the court on the ground that evidence had not been produced to support the charge.

C. C. Get-Together Meeting Wednesday

Next Wednesday night, the Dixon Chamber of Commerce will hold a "Get-together" meeting and banquet at the Masonic Temple. A splendid program is being arranged and will be announced later.

Letters have been mailed by the secretary to all members, asking them to hold this night open. Wives, sisters and sweethearts are invited.

The officials of the organization desire to make this a large night. Other notices regarding the affair will be published from time to time, together with details of the program. The hour of the banquet has been set at 6:30 o'clock.

Lady Heath's Hubby Refuses Her Money

London, Nov. 16—(AP)—Sir James Heath, husband of Lady Heath, widely known British airwoman, who is now in America, today made public through his solicitors an official notification withdrawing authority for her to pledge his credit. The notice, which appeared in the newspapers, also stated that he would not be responsible for her debts.

The notice declared that since their marriage Lady Heath had been in receipt of an allowance sufficient to provide herself with all suitable necessities.

DOCTOR, NURSE ARE SENTENCED TO STATE PRISON

LaSalle Physician Entered Plea of Guilty to Serious Charge

Ottawa, Ill., Nov. 16—(AP)—Pleading guilty, Dr. Joseph B. Moran, LaSalle physician, and Mrs. May Bowers a nurse, were sentenced to terms of from one to ten years in the state penitentiary today on charges of performing an illegal operation on Miss Tillie Hartel, LaSalle girl, causing her death.

Judge Frank H. Hayes of the LaSalle County Circuit Court passed sentence after the state had dismissed murder charges against the doctor and nurse. The girl died last July. Her body was exhumed in August and after an inquest the doctor and the woman were indicted.

Dr. Moran was in the Army Medical corps during the war and Mrs. Bowers was a nurse at Camp Grant.

STEWART MOVES DIRECTED JURY VERDICT TODAY

Government Rests Its Case Against Standard Oil Co. Chief

Washington, Nov. 16—(AP)—Justice Jennings Bailey today adjourned until Monday the perjury trial of Robert W. Stewart, Chairman of the Board of the Indiana Standard Oil Company of Indiana, and defense counsel moved immediately that the court direct the jury to return a verdict of "not guilty."

termine whose negligence it was."

Mr. Puppe's voice broke at times as he spoke of his wife and baby, how they had to go without food Sunday because he could find no one to cook it for them. He told of seeing his wife and baby being lowered in a lifeboat and how he tried to follow them.

"Keep that man out of that boat, don't let him go down there," he said the Captain called.

"I called back, 'My wife and child are in that boat.'"

"That makes no difference. That boat is too full," the Captain called back.

That was the last he ever saw of the two.

He testified that two filled lifeboats were still hanging to the ship when she went over. What happened to their occupants he did not know.

Lacked Intelligence

Sinclair, who was the calmest of all the witnesses, and who had traveled much at sea, said what impressed him most was the "lack of any intelligent plan of lowering the lifeboats or getting the passengers into them."

He also testified that the lifeboat in which he finally escaped was unseaworthy, its paint gone in many places and its equipment either missing or in poor shape. The canister containing the flares was so rusty the lid had to be chopped off, he said.

HEAD SOC COL
THE DROWSY LAND—
(This time of the year)
Wild geese, the clouds above the grove,
Drift in a fantail swirl of mauve
Beyond, a strip of Peking blue
Binds the sky to the drowsy land
As an ankle band
To a lily shoe.

But the countryside is the view to hold
In this drowsy land.
Groups of trees, friendly and old,
Whisper together, hand in hand.
On hills patch-tiled, whose gold
Brown sheen
Sunset will glean.

Farmer loads go by with song
On ribbons of roads, shining and long.
That bind the temples to Peking
Like ribbons to a May-pole gay;
And bells a lay
Of temples sing.

Burnt orange ears of corn, on thatch,
The copper sunlight vie and catch,
Or golden kernels on stone mills
Are ground and rolled
By some blindfolded donkey old,
Home from the hills.

And punctuating the whole terrain,
Here and there
Are circles of smooth and hard-packed earth
Where blue-clad men with lyric mirth
Are throwing golden clouds of grain
Into the air.

Now priests intone their even-song
With bell and gong;
Only the calls of boys are heard
Upon the hill.
Of the shepherd late, of bird to bird,
Of crickets and cicadae shrill.

Suddenly the sun flares a high good-
by.
And at his command
The mirage of a volcano appears in the sky;
Making up the drowsy land
A benediction of great rose Shadows.

Loyal Workers Class Meeting

The Loyal Workers Sunday school class of the Presbyterian church held a very pleasant and profitable meeting on Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Eleanor Buckaloo. The girls were all busily engaged in sewing after the brief business session. Tempting refreshments were served.

MENU for the FAMILY

BY SISTER MARY
BREAKFAST — Grapes, cereal, cream, eggs poached in milk on Graham toast, extra toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON — Tomatoes filled with oysters, steamed brown bread, hearts of celery, old-fashioned bread pudding, milk, tea.
DINNER — Clear soup with croutons, stuffed breast of veal, creamed new cabbage, date and nut pudding, milk, coffee.

Tomatoes Filled with Oysters
Four smooth medium sized tomatoes, 8 or 12 fine oysters, 2 cups cracker crumbs, 4 teaspoons butter, 4 tablespoons coarse bread crumbs, salt and pepper.
Wash tomatoes and cut slice from stem end. Scoop out inside and rub through a strainer to remove seeds. Add cracker crumbs to tomato juice adding more water if necessary to make moist. Half fill tomatoes with cracker mixture, add 2 or 3 oysters and cover with crumb mixture. Dot with butter and cover with coarse bread crumbs. Bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven.

The oysters should be sprinkled with salt and pepper when added to tomatoes.

Bridge and Five Hundred Party Enjoyed

The Altar and Rosary Society of St. Patrick's Catholic church sponsored a very enjoyable card party Thursday afternoon at Knights of Columbus Home, five hundred and bridge being the diversion, with twenty-three tables enjoyed.

The Armistice Day decorations were very artistic.
At five hundred favors were awarded to Mrs. M. H. McDonald for high score; to Mrs. Fred Hemmen for second score; and to Mrs. Ed Burke for consolation.

At bridge Mrs. Lottie Horton captured the favor for high honors, Mrs. P. J. Phalen won the second favor and Mrs. W. J. Cahill won the consolation favor. The attendance prize was presented to Mrs. W. Sherrick of Oregon, Ill. Mrs. Anna Reed was presented a prize also, in the group of ladies who did not play cards. Delicious refreshments completed the pleasure of all attending the happy affair.

Mrs. Beier Hostess At Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. George Beier was hostess Thursday at a charming bridge luncheon at her home flatteringly guests for three tables. A delightful luncheon was served, the decorations for the happy affair being in pink and lavender. The flowers were chrysanthemums and roses. The appointments for the luncheon were unique and lovely; rose petals were frozen in the ice cubes; and in the dessert course the ice cream was served in fascinating pink crepe paper roses.

Mrs. Adolph Eichler was awarded the favor for high score; and Mrs. S. C. Stanfield won the favor for second honors.

Mrs. Edwin Berg, nee Winnifred Roe, was a guest from Rogers Park.

Today Mrs. Beier is again entertaining with a bridge luncheon.
ARE ENTERTAINING WITH BRIDGE LUNCHEON—
Mrs. Max Eichler, Mrs. Adolph Eichler and Mrs. Lloyd Miller are entertaining with a bridge luncheon today at the home of Mrs. Max Eichler.

Brinton's Home on Ranch to be Rated One of the Finest

A Sheridan, Wyoming paper of recent date printed the following article which will be of much interest to Mr. Brinton's many friends in Dixon and vicinity:

When Bradford Brinton returns to his foothills ranch near Big Horn, Thursday, he will come back to a new home—the magnificence of which is seldom approached in the Wyoming country.

The complete remodeling of the large residence, the building of additions, and the placing of practically all new furnishings and equipment, at a probable cost in excess of $100,000, has made a grand transformation of the Brinton ranch home.

Within a few days the building and painting work will be completed on the home, and then furniture and other furnishings from the east, England and continental Europe will be arranged by experts to make an improved mansion home for Mr. Brinton near Sheridan, in which he may entertain scores of friends during the summer months.

Few people may know that within the gates of the "Quarter Circle A" ranch, beyond Big Horn, and at the end of a beautiful wooded lane there is set such a home as that of Mr. Brinton's. The original home, built about a quarter of a century ago by William Moncreiffe, was one of the best rural homes in Wyoming in its day. It was surrounded by three acres of beautifully landscaped lawns and flower gardens, which are also being improved to conform with the new Brinton home.

The work on rebuilding and enlarging the home on the Brinton ranch was started last October and is now nearing an early completion. Every need for more perfect comfort and capacity for entertaining has been complied with in building and furnishing the new home. A brick terrace has been laid around the front of the house, and on one end a breakfast sunroom has been built enclosed with glass and having a red brick floor.

One would lose count if he should try to add the number of rooms in the new residence as he passes from door to door. In practically every living room on the first floor is to be found a large fireplace. The large dining room is finished in paneled cherry woodwork. Some of the rooms are of various highly tinted hues. One is a bright mottled blue with walls and woodwork all blue, as of an old Spanish design. The electrical fixtures are of the wall candle kind, and in the downstairs library are made of Mexican hammered silver.

Facilities For Guests
The many bedrooms on the second floor are each equipped with a complete bathroom. Ideally furnished for the entertainment of many guests. The view offered from nearly every room in the home is out upon a beautiful lawn and gardens and above upon green foothills, Little Goose canyon and the rugged heights of the Big Horn mountains.

Mr. Brinton, while living in his Fifth avenue home in New York during the past winter months, has selected furniture and other home furnishings which he has shipped here. They will be put into place soon by an interior decorator who will come here from the East.

The entire home was resingled with new wooden shingles. They do not present the shiny appearance of new shingles, but have been given a weathered appearance by a special process desired by Mr. Brinton. The screens of the home are all of copper and open in, instead of out.

In front of the home and its brick terrace is a row of trees and flower beds, in the center of which is to be a new bird bath fountain. The old concrete foundation is being replaced by a new one, the marble of which has been shipped here from Italy.

Elaborate equipment has been installed in the basement of the home to soften the water. The water supply for the ranch buildings comes from a spring in the hills. After passing through the new equipment it is completely softened and purified by many filter processes. The ranch has its own 110-volt electric power plant.

Several Spanish elm trees have set out this spring about the lawn and gardens as a part of the landscape improvements.

Rustic Cabin
Mr. Brinton has also recently built a large rustic cabin on the banks of Little Goose, near his home. It is filled with articles of Indian lore and of the early history of Wyoming.

Scores of fine thoroughbred horses from Mr. Brinton's stables roam the foothill pastures, and it is his delight to mount into a saddle and ride his acres and to go to his resort at Dome Lake for a camping trip.

Mr. Brinton says that in all of his travels over the world he has found no better place to make his home than on his Big Horn ranch. He adds that if it were not for his business interests he would be at his ranch here throughout the year.

Improvements on Donnelly's
Extensive improvements are continuing to be made at the Eleanor Donnelly ranch in the mountains above Big Horn. The building work was started last year and is being extended this year. Neils Pearson, Sheridan contractor, is doing much of the work at the Donnelly ranch. He has also directed much of the building at the Brinton ranch.

Legislative Forums To Discuss Questions

Effingham, Ill.—(AP)—Discussing practical methods to obtain legislation of interest to women, the first of a series of legislative forums sponsored by the Illinois Women's Joint Legislative Council will be held here November 19.

Women's organizations which will send delegates to these forums include: Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, League of Women Voters, Congress of Parents and Teachers, Graduate Nurses' Association, Woman's Trade Union League, State Teachers Association, Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Women's Bar Association and Y. W. C. A.

The Effingham meeting will be followed by forums at East St. Louis and Harrisburg. The meeting places were selected so as to draw the largest number of congressional district representatives, and delegates will attend the meetings from the following congressional districts: Effingham, 18th, 19th, 23rd and 24th; East St. Louis, 20th, 21st, 22nd, part of the 25th; Harrisburg, 24th and 25th. These three forums will be attended by delegates from fifty-two southern and central Illinois counties.

Identical programs will be held in all three cities, with eight subjects to be discussed during each day. The subjects and the announced speakers are:

State reformatory for women offenders, Mrs. John T. Mason and Mrs. William E. Lewis; motor drivers license, Mrs. Harold F. White; women's eight hour day, Mrs. Agnes Nestor and Mrs. Frank R. Halas; joint committee for educational legislation, Mrs. F. L. Holch; Child Labor, Mrs. Alfred D. Kohn; women on juries, Miss Esther Dunshee, Mrs. Rebecca Willner, Miss Election law revision, Mrs. May Wood-Simon and maternity and infancy care, Miss Mary Murphy.

In addition to the luncheon speakers, the Illinois Municipal League, which is an organization of city officials from all over the state, will send speakers to the forums to address luncheon sessions, on the subject, "Home Rule for Illinois Cities."

The legislative forums have been held for several years, representing the first organized effort of various women's organizations to coordinate their efforts toward obtaining needed legislation. Officers are: President, Miss Grace Temple; vice-president, Mrs. John T. Mason; secretary, Miss Edith Rockwood; treasurer, Mrs. Erna Templeman.

Book Week Assists Children to Select Good Literature

The Literature department of the Dixon Women's club submits the following in regard to Book Week which is now being observed:

The twentieth century might be called the children's century, for never before has there been such interest in the welfare of children or such sincere endeavor to understand them. The inauguration of the first Book Week in 1919 was a manifestation of this growing spirit of sympathy with childhood needs and desire to give boys and girls their full heritage.

Book Week was organized to dramatize and intensify national interest in children's reading. The American Library Association, the Boy Scouts of America, the American Booksellers Association and a group of publishers planned the first observance. Now these and many other organizations take part annually. The General Federation of Women's Clubs has assumed a leading role in the observance each year, also the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, the National Education Association, the Girl Scouts, the Camp Fire Girls and other national groups.

In many towns the entire community takes part in this annual book festival, women's clubs, churches, business men's clubs, parent-teacher associations, schools, department stores, bookstores, libraries and newspapers all participating. Their aim is to bring all the boys and girls of the city in touch, during Book Week, with the delight of reading and owning books, and then to guide their reading and buying throughout the year, so that books will become a part of every child's daily life.

Prize Awards in 1927

A prize of fifty dollars was given the Greensboro Community Club, Greensboro, Md., in recognition of the effective Book Week observance directed by the club in 1927. The Missoula Woman's Club, Missoula, Mont., won second prize in the contest and a special prize of fifty dollars was given to the Detroit Federation of Women's Clubs for their constructive work in cooperation with the schools, public libraries, bookstores and other civic organizations interested in children's reading.

Honorable mention was awarded to the Canton Woman's Club, Canton, Ohio, for excellent newspaper publicity; New Market-Dunellen Women's Club, Dunellen, N. J., for community cooperation; Fort Pierce Woman's Club, Fort Pierce, Fla., for originality; Toppish Woman's Club, Toppish, Wash., for constructive achievement and enthusiasm; Unity Club, Lancaster, N. H., for unusual cooperation in spite of flood conditions; Woman's Tuesday Club, Mission, Texas, for their survey of books in the homes; Jellico Women's Club, Jellico, Tenn., for constructive work with school libraries.

Wesleyan Missionary Society Meeting

The November meeting of the Wesleyan Missionary Society of the Methodist church was held Tuesday evening at the church, taking the form of a scramble supper. About 30 members gathered at 6:30 and after the singing of the Doxology were seated at the tables before a bountiful supper. At the close of the meal the tables were cleared and the regular meeting held in charge of the president, Miss Ino Shellhamer.

The devotional service was given by Rev. Stephenson and was based on the 24th Psalm. The reports of the officers were then read and the regular business of the society transacted. Following this the program was opened by a violin solo by Dean Ball, accompanied by Miss Alberta Peterson, which was much enjoyed. Mr. Lancaster then gave the home mission study, a sketch of the life and customs of the Eskimos of Alaska, and a review of the missionary work which is being done to improve their physical, mental, and spiritual welfare. The Foreign Mission topic was given by Mrs. C. C. Hintz, an article on the work of a mission school and dispensary in an African village which was very interesting. At this time Mr. Keller told how the 23rd Psalm was adapted in the Eskimo language, substituting the seal for the sheep of the Bible, which are unknown to these people.

The latter part of the evening was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Koller who presented several guessing games and a mind reading stunt which were very amusing.

W. M. S. Thank Offering Meeting Tuesday

The W. M. S. of Grace Evangelical church met on Tuesday afternoon at the church. It being the annual thank offering meeting a special program was prepared and the following numbers enjoyed by all: Devotions, Mrs. C. J. Shultz; Reading, Mrs. C. A. Garrison; Lesson study, Mrs. E. L. Graves; Playette, "The Home Coming of Mrs. Gray's Children," the parts being taken by Rilla Webster, Mrs. Roy Ford, Mrs. Ray Strock, Mrs. Fred Krahler and Mrs. Lee Lincoln. Leaflet, Mrs. F. Brand-felner. Quartette, Mrs. A. Klein, Mrs. I. S. Graybill, Mrs. Sarah Reis and Mrs. A. W. Hartman. Piano duet, Mrs. Fred Krahler and Mrs. W. E. Crews.

The thank offering boxes were then taken up after which the business was conducted.
All were invited to the basement where tempting refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed. The hostesses for the afternoon were the officers of the W. M. S.

Dr. E. S. Murphy to Speak in Mendota

The Home Economics Department of the Mendota Woman's Club with Mrs. Raena Brown as chairman feel very fortunate in having Dr. Edward S. Murphy of Dixon to address the club on Monday, Nov. 19th.

Dr. Murphy was secured at the Illinois State Medical Society. His subject is "Health Inventories for Club Women." This topic should be of vital interest as the growing tendency is prophylactic measures rather than to place all stress on a cure, and in as much as this is the first health talk which has been given before the club it is hoped there will be a large attendance. Each member is urged to bring a guest.

Phidian Art Club Meeting Enjoyed

The Phidian Art Club met on Tuesday in the charming home of Mrs. E. E. Wingert. Mrs. Coppins held the attention of the members with a very able and interesting paper on Benjamin Disraeli, novelist and statesman, and prime minister to Queen Victoria. Mrs. Wingert was assisted in the dining room by her two daughters, Mrs. Stanwood Griffith of Ashton, and Miss Constance and Mrs. C. H. McKenney and Miss Jean Hitchcock pouring.

SEEING WHAT SHOULD BE.

Ludwig Von Beethoven, greatest of composers, would not have been a great composer if he had not suffered from deafness. So says a French student in a recent communication to the Paris Academy of Scientists.

Beethoven, according to the Frenchman's theory, was able to put together great harmonies because he could not hear the noises of the outer world. The sounds that he heard were sounds within his own brain; from them he got the materials to make music that the world will always remember. Beethoven could not hear the music that really existed; he could only hear the music that ought to exist. That is the way it is with most of the men we honor highly. They devote themselves to what ought to be rather than what is.

To be sure, they are usually called "impractical idealists" by their contemporaries. But that does not matter. Since the days of the Pharaohs, the world has followed meekly at the leading strings of the impractical idealists; and it will continue to do so until it stops spinning.

What is an idealist, anyway? He is a man who is out of patience with the existing order. Like Beethoven, his mind is attuned to communications that the rest of us cannot hear. If, in addition to being an idealist he is a man of force, this bears fruit, and he gives us a Fifth Symphony, a cure for some hitherto baffling plague, or a French revolution.

An idealist is a man sustained and made strong by a great inspiration. And great inspirations do not, ordinarily, come from the outer world. That part of life that we can see the naked eye is not always very inspiring; it is worth noting that the "realists" in the world of fiction—the writers who boast fondly that they "see life just as it is"—are the world's profoundest pessimists.

But the world within—ah, that is different. Anything can exist there; anything, that is, that we individually are capable of conceiving. There we can see the world as it ought to be; there, like Beethoven, we can hear harmonies that should exist but do not. And, if we are strong enough, we can help transform these visionary sights and sounds into realities.

Never look to the outside world for strength and inspiration. You will not often find them there. Look within yourself. Imagine what things should be if the world were remade—and then go ahead and try to shape the reality to fit.

You will be a visionary idealist, to be sure. But it is the visionary idealists to whom the world owes everything it prizes.

A LESSON IN LIFE-SAVING.

Three-year-old Freddie Eaton of Boston is alive today only because his mother and his grandfather are people of extraordinary energy and decision.

Freddie tumbled in the water of Dorchester bay while playing with other children on a deserted dock. One of the children ran a quarter of a mile to the boy's home and told Mrs. Eaton. She ran at top speed to the water, jumped in without stopping to remove her heavy clothing, swam to her son's floating body and brought him ashore.

On the dock was waiting the boy's grandfather, Seth Eaton, aged 83. The boy was unconscious and had stopped breathing. The grandfather began first aid measures. For half an hour they seemed without effect. Then, at last, the boy's eyes flickered open, a flush began to appear in his cheeks—and he lived. The grandfather promptly picked him up and ran the quarter-mile distance to the house, where the mother called a doctor.

Today Freddie is as well as if he had never fallen in. He can, when he grows older, thank the remarkable energy of his mother and grandfather.

While all the Tynmites sailed along the wind began to blow real strong. Of course it made their little boat go hopping 'cross the waves. "Hey, watch the rudder," Scouty cried to Clowny. "It's right by your side." And Clowny snapped. "You always think of work. What are we, slaves?"

This made the other Tynmites mad, and Copy said, "Well, it's too bad you ever have to live your little finger. It's a shame! You mar the pleasure that we get because you always have to fret. And when you are dissatisfied, you have yourself to blame."

"That's right," said Carpy. "Every-one should just have heaps and heaps of fun, but you are always spoiling things. Why don't you join in and smile like all the rest of us? 'Tis better than to make a fuss." Poor Clowny seemed to understand, and he began to grin.

"All right," he said. "I'll do my best to act just like all of the rest." And then he jumped and shouted, "Look! What is that in the sky?" The others gazed. Then Scouty said, "Twil shortly be right over head. We'll try to make out what it is while it is passing by."

They didn't have to wait for long till Copy yelled, "Unless I'm wrong it is a very queer balloon." They soon found he was right. And then he added, "Mercy me! A long and dangling rope I see. An anchor's on the end of it. It's just swung into sight."

The anchor shortly swooped down low, and Scouty cried, "Whoops! Here we go. The anchor's caught our little boat. We're rising from the sea." And, sure enough, the boat rose high and seemed to head up towards the sky. The Tynmites all hung on tight, as thrilled as they could be.

(The Tynmites have an air ride in the next story.)

AT AUNT BECKY'S

I'm going to Aunt Becky's for to spend Thanksgiving Day
An' Ma an' Pa an' brother Jim they're gone too, they say:
But I can't see why they must go—
Aunt Becky might get cross
A seein' Ma and Pa, and Jim a eatin' of her sauce.

Aunt Becky just invited me—I never heard her tell
The other folks 'at they should come, "if they wuz feelin' well."
I guess I'd best keep very good, an' gentle-like, an' still.
'Cause if I ain't my Ma might say: "You'd best stay home with Bill."

An' Bill's our hired man, you know—he never goes away.
But just keeps on a workin' an' with me he'll always play.
I love my Bill an' he loves me—I often stay with him;
Aunt Becky wants me, though, you see, with Ma, an' Pa, an' Jim.

I just can see the table now, so full of things to eat,
An' hear Aunt Becky hummin' as she carves the turkey meat.
Ehe knows I like the "drum-stick" an' the heart an' gizzard best,
An' my Aunt Becky don't forget to save it from the rest.

There's sweet potatoes, angel-cake, ice cream an' punkin' pie,
Plum pudding, olives, nuts an' fruit, an' baked beans, too, I spy;
An' celery pickles, gravy, salad, ketchup, salmon, cheese,
Jello, tomatoes, cabbage, carrots, corn, crackers an' peas.

Then, I suppose she'll also have the stuffin' an' the sage,
Cranberry sauce an' honey, an' her biscuits all the rage;
An' grape juice, tea an' coffee, cookies, candy—morn' that—
Because I'm goin' to be there—her "darlin'" little brat."

I always have the mostest fun at my Aunt Becky's house,
A playin' with old Fido, an' a feedin' Tab a mouse;
An' Speckle is her old pet horse, an' Brindle is her cow—
What fun I always have a pullin' hay down from the mow.

I wuz at auntie's house one time, an' just got awful sick,
An' Doctor Grady had to come to cure my poor stummick.
He told my auntie not to worry I'd be all right soon,
But castor oil I'd have to take each mornin', night an' noon.

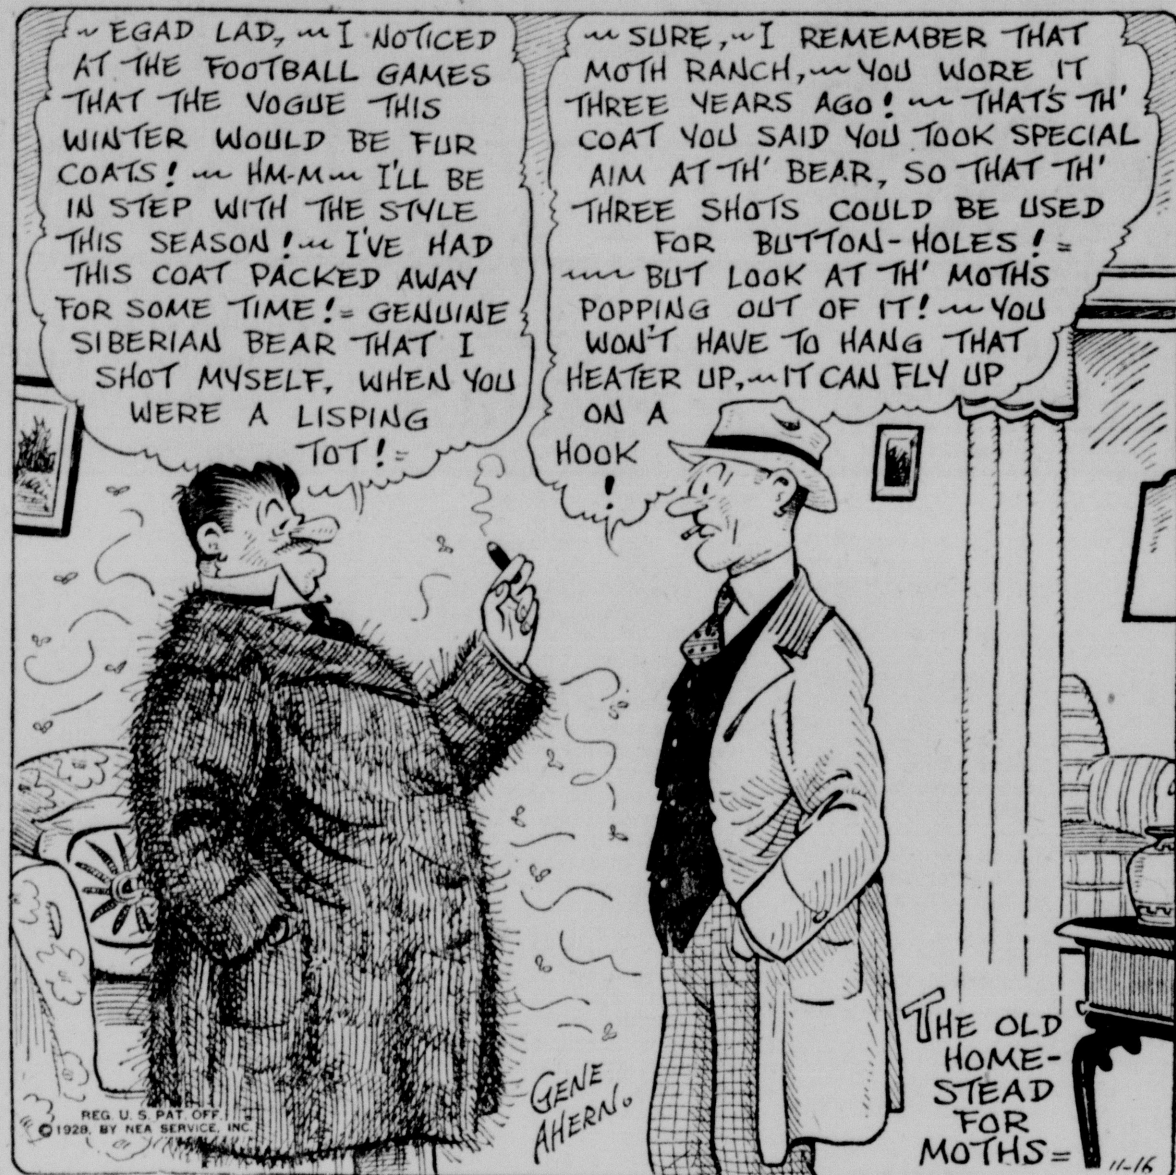

He told her I had ate too much of candy and popcorn,
But then he said: "That's nat'ral for every kid 'ats born."
My Auntie Becky she wuz scared when I wuz feelin' so,
An' I would try to always smile to cheer her up, you know.

Oh, gee, I hope I don't get sick on this Thanksgiving Day.
For Fido, Tab an' Speckle is all ready now to play.
I'm jest a goin' to have my plate filled once—a bit of each—
An' I won't care if I don't get the last large rosy peach.

An' maybe that's the reason why my Ma, an' Pa, an' Jim,

ROCHELLE NEWS

Rochelle—Albert Kingman who resigned his position on the high school faculty to enter the employ of the Morgan Dyeing & Bleaching Co., as a chemist effective November 16th, was the victim of a surprise party arranged by his associates and held at the high school Wednesday evening.

Mr. Kingman will be succeeded by Claude Magee, a graduate of the University of Iowa. Mr. Magee will have charge of the sixth and seventh period general science classes and the first, second and fourth period geometry classes. The University of Iowa is credited with being the only school that gives the complete thorough instruction and training necessary for future teachers of a general science.

Mr. and Mrs. Magee are expected to arrive in Rochelle some time during this week.

Among the activities planned for the Legion are the annual carnival to be held in the Woodman Hall, November 28, 29, 30 and Dec. 1st.

The post with the co-operation of the local troops of Boy Scouts will sponsor a community dance to be held in the new Manning garage now nearing completion about the middle of December at a definite date to be announced later. John P. Manning, newly elected commander of the Legion will furnish the orchestra and the two local organizations will share in the proceeds. The building is now under roof and the windows are being placed. It will have a floor space 66x124.

M. J. Turnbull, works manager of the Geo. D. Whitcomb Company, left Wednesday night for Philadelphia to spend two weeks on active duty in the officers reserve corps in which he holds a commission as a captain.

The Service club enjoyed a one o'clock luncheon at the home of the president, Mrs. D. W. Kelley, Wednesday. Among those from out of town were Mrs. Thomas Keegan of Rockford, and Mrs. E. L. McConaughy of LaGrange.

A. M. Guhl, principal of the township high school, will motor to Springfield to attend a meeting of the legislative committee of the State's Teachers Association of which he is a member, Saturday. The committee is composed of one member from each division. The meeting will be held in the Abraham Lincoln Hotel.

Mrs. Lena B. Hartong and Mrs. R. E. Sipe will entertain companies of ladies at bridge-teas to be given at the home of Mrs. Hartong on Thursday and Saturday afternoon of this week.

Lawrence H. Cornelius of Clinton Iowa, is the new advertising manager of the George D. Whitcomb Company, succeeding H. M. Snyder who resigned effective, November 15.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Atwater and children and Mrs. Irma Renner of Wheaton, spent Monday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Anderson.

News From Grid Camps of Large Schools of West

BY PAUL R. MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chicago, Nov. 16—(AP)—Over-confidence of his Iowa pigskin warriors is worrying Coach Burt Ingwersen more than Wisconsin's heralded passing and running attack.

Iowa appears too confident of a triumph over the Badgers tomorrow to suit Ingwersen, who years ago was taught by his old teacher, Bob Zuppke of Illinois, that over-confidence can beat any good team.

All week long, the Iowa coach has attempted to slap down the optimistic war but the only help he has had come from a Cedar Rapids fortune teller, who forecasts a Wisconsin victory. Freshmen armed with Wisconsin plays, have been stopped almost in their tracks this week by the varsity.

Iowa City, scene of the game which may decide the Big Ten football championship for 1928, was crowded today with the advance guard of fans. Odds were strongly in favor of Iowa.

The Badgers, 35 to 40 strong, were to leave Madison today for overnight quarters at Cedar Rapids. Governor Fred Zimmerman issued a "pep" call yesterday, requesting students and everyone in Madison to give a sendoff to Coach Glen Thistlethwaite and his big machine.

Two other invasions were on today in the Big Ten gridiron ranks, Illinois going to Chicago and Northwestern invading Indiana. Illinois has definitely lost Deimling and Timm for the season.

Smarting under criticism of alumni for their failure to win a conference game this season, Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg's Chicago team was in a fighting mood. Hugh Mendenhall has been charged with the job of calling signals and Stagg has warned against recurrence of dissension that cropped out in the Wisconsin game. Tomorrow's game is the last on Chicago's schedule.

Coach Pat Page and his Indiana eleven awaited the Northwestern game with hopes lowered by injuries. Swihart, regular guard, joined the already large cripple list yesterday with an infected foot, which may keep him out of the game. Northwestern, however, was in good physical condition and 29 players made the trip to Bloomington.

Purdue and Michigan, which play non-conference opponents tomorrow, also are taking advantage of their "breathers" for important games, on Nov. 29. Purdue will clash with its greatest rival, Indiana, and Michigan will attempt to halt Iowa, if Wisconsin fails, on that date.

BY BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
New York, Nov. 16—(AP)—Many football teams tomorrow will be fighting for their competitive lives. Army and Navy are the exceptions.

for the two service teams have scheduled opponents good enough to be interesting but not believed dangerous to the peace of mind.

Army will play Carleton on Minnesota while Navy takes on Loyola of Baltimore.

In the leading traditional game, 55 years old, Princeton will seek to turn back Yale.

The game between undefeated Iowa and Wisconsin teams will have a lot to do with determining the title holder of the Western Conference. The Hawkeyes were better last year but now they are carrying an added burden of being at the top of the heap, a target for all comers.

Notre Dame's defeat of the Army has brought the game with Carnegie at South Bend to the front rank, for the Tartans from Pittsburgh have not been stopped. The followers of Rockne and his fighting come-back team have to go back 23 years to find a record of a Notre Dame defeat in their Hoosier habitat, and many believe it cannot be done.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Cincinnati—Eddie Anderson, Cody, Wyo., outpointed Tommy Murray, Philadelphia, (10). Nick Broglio, Herrin, Ill., outpointed Howard Mitchell, Cincinnati, (10). Johnny Moore, Pittsburgh outpointed Youn Lupo, Cincinnati, (4).
Tulsa, Okla.—Babe Hunt, Ponca City, Okla., knocked out Quintin Rojas, Chile, (2).
Alam, Pa.—Joey Scalfaro, New York, outpointed Dave Adelman, Philadelphia, (8).
Ottumwa, Ia.—Eddie Dwyer, Atchison, Kans., knocked out Jack Nelson, Memphis, Tenn., (2).
Sioux City, Ia.—Gerald "Tuffy" Griffiths, Sioux City, knocked out Jimmy Mahoney, Chicago (3).

Hooks and Slides

TOUGH? OH, MY YES!
It has been a tough season for those experts who Saturday after Saturday seek to name the football winners. Not a Saturday has passed by but what one or more teams upset the dope bucket.

It is getting tougher and tougher to pick the winners in football, and this situation is not over for the year yet.

One has a chance of going wrong five times in five guesses for games to be played Nov. 24. Any one who comes to the front with five right ones on the Army-Nebraska, Yale-Harvard, Illinois-Ohio State, California-Stanford and Northwestern-Dartmouth games ought to get a reward of some kind.

Then there are two other games that are going to tax the guessing apparatus of the experts. Those games are the Army-Stanford and Southern California-Notre Dame that follow later.

BIG HELP TO CAUSE

Notre Dame's victory over Army was an indirect boost to the football teams at Wisconsin and Georgia Tech, a reader from Chicago points out in a letter.

He says: "Army has been boosted all the year as the best team in the country and the one deserving of national honors if it managed to escape defeat the entire season."

They barely trimmed S. M. U. by a 14-13 score, and Notre Dame, beaten by Wisconsin and Georgia Tech, tripped them. Without going deep into anything but the scores of these games, it seems that the football teams at Georgia Tech and Wisconsin deserve a bit more ranking nationally because of this, especially if they end their seasons without losing any games."

SO WE'VE HEARD

The fullback of the University of California football team is Charlie Schmidt—remember the name?

A hard-hitting, courageous fighter, this Schmidt is, and that is what one expects of him if they know his daddy is no other than Charlie Schmidt, the former Detroit catcher of 20 years ago. He has an uncle, Walter, who caught for Seattle in 1927 and 1928 and also served his time in the majors.

Schmidt is said to be one of the best fullbacks California has had in years. Incidentally, he's the catcher for the California baseball team and has shown possibilities of reaching the big leagues some day.

WHEN DO WE REST?

Ohio State recently announced its football schedule for the 1929 campaign and for an institution with no coach signed for the season so far, it seems quite an ambitious one. Certainly it is one that will put a new coach, if Dr. Jack Wilce doesn't stay, to the big test in his first year.

The Buckeyes have one real soft spot. That's the first Saturday in October, and they haven't filled it yet. It may turn out to be another tough game.

The schedule shows games with Iowa, Michigan, Indiana, Pittsburgh, Northwestern, Navy and Illinois on successive Saturdays.

That's the kind of a schedule that only the most foolish will expect to see completed without a defeat or two stuck in some place.

Hot Games Feature Nat. Hockey League

New York, November 16—(AP)—Three teams that finished in the doldrums of the National Hockey League last season served notice in the opening games of the 1928-29 campaign that they would be very much in the running this year.

The New York Americans fought through 70 minutes of high speed to a scoreless tie with the Ottawa Senators. Fine goal tending by "Flat" Walsh of the Americans and Alex Connell of the Senators ended all the efforts of the fast-skating forwards.

Another revamped team, Chicago, did not find itself until the final period and came out on the short end of a 2 to 0 game against Toronto. Two newcomers to the league, Andy Blair and Shorty Horne, made a fine start on their task of putting the Leafs back into the spotlight by scoring the two goals.

The Pittsburgh Pirates battled the Boston Bruins through a full 60 minutes before Boston finally pulled out a 1 to 0 victory in the overtime period.

led. The first capacity crowd on record at Pittsburgh saw the game.

At Montreal the Canadians captured the first game of their intra-city rivalry with the Maroons by a 3 to 1 count, before 12,000 fans, the full capacity of the Forum.

The world's champion New York Rangers stopped the Detroit Cougars, 2 to 0.

Heeney Still Thinks He's Coming Champ

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 16—(AP)—Tom Heeney thinks he will be the next heavyweight champion of the world.

The brawny blacksmith who took a terrific trouncing from Gene Tunney in the last year's farewell ring appearance last summer, says he believes he can enter any heavyweight elimination tournament and emerge the sole survivor.

The bout I had with Tunney taught me a great deal," Tom said here yesterday when he arrived with his bride on the last lap of a round-the-world honeymoon tour. "I made a lot of mistakes in that fight that I'll never make again."

Tom's biggest ambition is to get into the same ring with Jack Dempsey. "He is the greatest of them all," says the New Zealander, "and I never will consider myself a really experienced fighter until I have had a go with Jack."

Glick and Joe Gans Meet in N. Y. Garden

New York, Nov. 16—(AP)—Joe Glick, the well known pants presser from Williamsburg, will see tonight just what he can do toward halting the rush of that Pacific Coast fistic sensation, Baby Joe Gans. They fight ten rounds at 135 pounds in Madison Square Garden.

Gans on his record is close to a 2 to 1 favorite.

A DECIDEDLY DIFFERENT 5-CENT CIGAR

Don't Believe It? Read This:

Maybe a lot of 5c cigar brands have got your goat. Forget 'em! Here's one that is different—Havana Ribbon. And how it does put the ordinary "nickeler" to shame! Thirty years on the market! Millions added to millions every year! Surely a cigar has got to have "the goods" to remain a winner so long!

Listen, Havana Ribbon, for five cents, contains tobacco you usually find only in higher-priced cigars: Ripe, long-filler leaves of choice plants. No bitter under-ripe top leaves. No flat-tasting over-ripe bottom leaves. No crumbly "scraps" or short ends to come out in your mouth. But long, zesty, true-tasting, mellow-mild, fully-ripe middle leaves from tip to base. Pretty good, eh? Why, man, it's perfect!

At cigar counters everywhere. Also in Practical Pocket Packages of five cigars.

The New A.C. Tube Stromberg-Carlson

THE GLORIOUS QUALITY of tone which has made Stromberg-Carlson the choice of those who really appreciate music... compactness given by A.C. Tubes;... beautiful cabinet of genuine Walnut;... all combine to make this new Receiver noteworthy in radio.

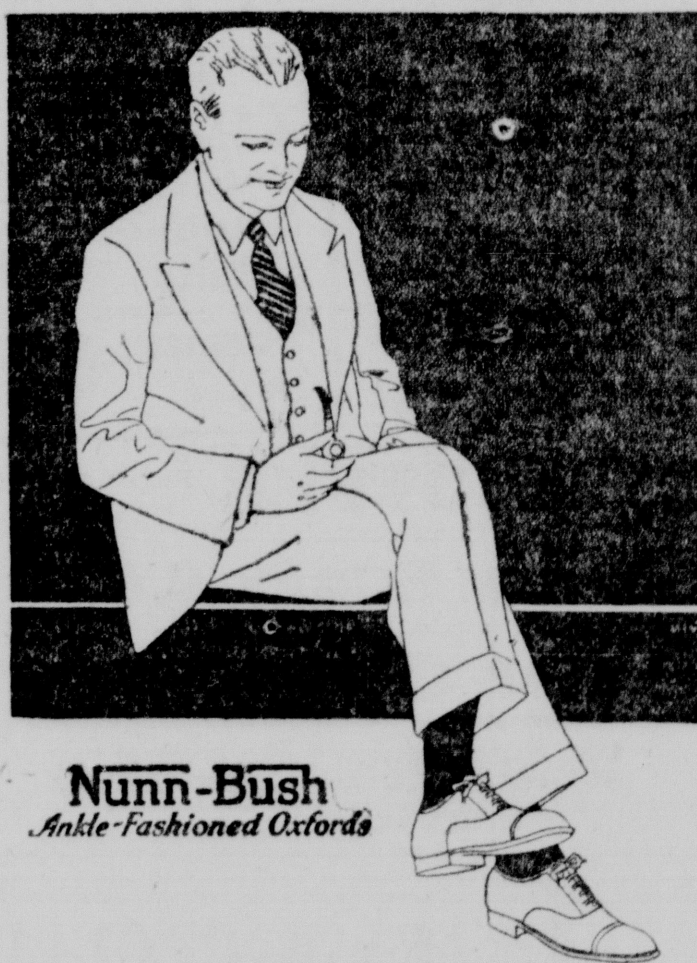

It is all-electric, having no batteries or liquids, all operating power coming from the house lighting circuit. It is extremely sensitive, bringing in distant stations readily and is highly selective.

It is designed to give care-free operation; nothing in it should wear out or require periodical servicing. A handy jack facilitates playing records electrically through the audio system of Receiver.

STATUS OF NEW ALLOCATION UP TO RADIO FANS

May Take Months to Decide if New Plan is Successful

BY C. E. BUTTERFIELD (Associated Press Radio Editor)
New York—(AP)—Listening radio-dom has had a taste of the wave-length reallocations. Whether it is bitter or sweet may require weeks and even months to decide.
Those fans whose sole delight is distance hunting and the others who depend largely upon local reception gradually are building up their station logs again and beginning to analyze the situation. Some have found it much to their liking, particularly in cases where both distance and local reception has improved. Others discovered flaws that only the practical application of a plan on paper could bring out.
One development to be expected was the absence of heterodynes or squeals in the background of stations assigned to clear channels. The heterodynes are due to overlapping wavelengths.
In the east, a strong whistle often was noticeable heretofore back of WOR even to New York listeners. Under the reallocation this was gone, as was the case with the slight whistle behind WEAF and WJZ and other powerful stations throughout the country that now occupy free wave spaces.
In laying out the new assignments on 96 channels, the radio commission cleared 40 of them. On 28 of these were put stations of high power with a clear right of way. On the other 12 were placed 24 stations required to divide time. In most cases no other stations occupy these channels, although occasionally another transmitter was granted a limited time or a daylight assignment thereon.
The remaining stations were put on regional or local channels, depending upon their power. Local stations, given six channels and 25 or more occupying each one, do not have more than 100 watts. The regional stations have greater power and from 5 to 10 of them are on each of 44 channels. Where the stations are in the same locality they are required to divide time.
The regional classifications are at both the top and bottom of the scale, with local stations only in the shorter wavelengths. The clear channels extend from 468.5 meters to 252 meters, inclusive, with an occasional regional channel in between. In the clear section are six channels assigned exclusively to Canada. Canada also shares six regional and two local channels.

It was in the regional and local channels with their great gathering of stations that most of the interference centered. The quiet of the clear channels disappeared into a growl of heterodynes once the listener got away from them. Whistles could be heard behind almost every regional and local station, no matter its nearness to the receiver. In the regional section on the high waves reception was somewhat better than in the low waves.
Some difficulty was encountered in compiling new logs because of the infrequency of the announcement of call letters by some stations. This was particularly disconcerting in connection with distance.
An early survey of the new waves showed that the situation had been bettered by the clear channels, making the logging of more distance possible. In the other sections the improvement was not so apparent.

Good Thoughts for Good People

Jesus went about his Father's business, healing and teaching, and in his public ministry he lost no opportunity to be kind. As the love of God as divine love increases, our thoughts and lives become animated by the infinite kindness of God.

The Christian Science Monitor

Life is made up not of great sacrifices or duties, but of little things, in which smiles and kindnesses and small obligations, given habitually, do what win and preserve the heart, and secure comfort.

Sir Humphrey Davy.

In all the affairs of human life, social as well as political, I have remarked that courtesies of a small and trivial character are the ones which strike deepest to the grateful and appreciating heart.

Henry Clay

The one secret of politeness is to love. Love cannot behave itself unseemly. You can put the most untutored persons into the highest society, and if they have a reservoir of love in their hearts, they will not behave themselves unseemly. They simply cannot do it.

Henry Drummond.

This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you.

John.

At the morning service at 10:45 the subject of the pastor's message will be "The Lord's Return—An Incentive to Christian Work."

6:30 p. m. is the time of the Christian Endeavor meeting.

"Creation or Evolution—Which?" will be the subject of the Bible exposition at the evening service at 7:30. This will be the first message in a series from the Book of Genesis. This book is the foundation of Divine Revelation and it is important to know what it teaches.

Wed. evening the mid-week prayer service at 7:30.

GRACE EVANGELICAL CHURCH

North Side

Rev. Frank Brandelner, Pastor. The revival services now in progress are encouraging. The attendance and interest is very good. Last evening Evangelist J. L. Lobaugh spoke on "Childlikeness" using as a basis a text found in Matthew 18:3: "Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven." He stated: "This verse as the teaching of Jesus shows the kind of spirit the true Christian must have to enter the kingdom of heaven. Among the many things that characterize a little child's life we find the following: A little child is teachable. Bears no malice. Man has malice in his heart when he is unconverted. A little child has perfect faith. There is no fear in their faith. May we pray as the Disciples: Lord, increase our faith. A child knows no caste. When Jesus came into the heart you won't know any caste. Prejudice will be taken out of our hearts. A child has no complaining nature. Spirit of love is always showing itself. But a fault finder is not found in the kingdom of heaven. No love for material things in the child's heart. They are liberal and dependent."

Rev. Lobaugh will preach tonight and again tomorrow night. A cordial invitation is extended to every one Christ died for you. His death was the one act that satisfies God and makes possible man's redemption. "He that hath the Son hath life, and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life."

THE FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Rev. A. Turley Stephenson, Minister. The Church School at nine forty five. The increase in attendance in all departments is continuing.

The morning hour of worship at ten forty five. The pastor will speak on the subject, "The Value of a Witness." The special music by the chorus choir will be the anthem "Praise the Lord" by Wooler. Mrs. Amos Grover will sing a soprano solo, "Eye Hath Not Seen" from the Holy City by Gaul.

At the evening services at seven o'clock the pastor will give the second of his series of addresses upon Religion. The subject for next Sunday night being "Is the Christian Religion a Declining Factor in the Present Day Civilization?" The special music will be furnished by the Ladies Chorus. This service will be just one hour in length, closing promptly at eight o'clock.

The High School League will meet promptly at six o'clock. This organization of young people is getting a good start in their new program.

The regular program for the mid week service will be continued as usual next Wednesday evening at seven-thirty, using The Sermon On The Mount as the subject for the Bible study and the history of the writing of the gospel of St. Luke will be the subject for the third period.

The various departments of the church are asked to have their notices for the church column in this paper in the hands of the pastor by Thursday noon.

Thursday, Nov. 23, at 2:30 P. M. the regular meeting of the Dorcas Society will be held in the church vestry.

ST. PAUL'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH

Lloyd Warren, Pastor. Rev. C. B. Caughman, pastor in India. 9:30 A. M. Bible School. At the Workers' Conference last Monday night the general sentiment seemed not to favor the present arrangement of the school. However it was a very gracious and wholesome sentiment and ready for any kind of reasonable sacrifice for the good of the whole.

The spirit of fairness was commendable and it was voted to continue again honestly try the present arrangement for another month.

A very pleasing feature was reported by the secretary that there were 30 more present each of the last three Sundays than the same Sundays one year ago. Let us pray and work for better attendance, a bigger school and better work. If not identified with any other, come along and help us to help you in our Bible School.

GRACE EVANGELICAL CHURCH

North Side. Rev. Frank Brandelner, pastor. Christ died for your sins.

Tonight, Friday, Rev. J. L. Lobaugh will preach. The evangelistic services are well under way with a fine spirit in the meetings, and a growing interest. These services are for you—if you are not saved, God is warning you of your danger. God warns all men, for He desires all sinners to be saved. He is not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance. Last evening the Evangelist gave a very helpful message in which he emphasized the necessity of trusting in the blood of Jesus Christ for salvation.

Saturday night—A men's prayer meeting.

Sunday Services: Morning prayer circle—9:30. Church Bible School—9:45. Supt. Lee Lincoln. We have a class for you. Morning worship—10:45. Evangelist J. L. Lobaugh will preach. Christian Endeavor Service 6:30. Evangelistic service 7:30. Evangelist will preach the Gospel. A cordial invitation is extended to all. This will be family night.

Our services will continue through next week until at least Sunday, Nov. 25th. Following the revival effort, plans have been made for our 35th Anniversary Service on Dec. 2nd.

Welcome to our services are strangers and the poor.

Christ rose again for our justification.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

A large and appreciative audience again attended the revival services being held in the First Baptist church. Rev. and Mrs. Kindig were in charge and delighted us with their sweet music. The Ladies' Choir sang "In the Garden" while Mr. and Mrs. Kindig sang that beautiful negro spiritual "Want to be a Christian," accompanied on the marimba. Then Mrs. Kindig rendered that old favorite, "My Mother's Bible" in her usual charming manner. The Pastor spoke on "Deserters, Doubters, Shirkers, Shouters," using the old familiar story of Gideon in Judges, 7, as his background.

He said: "Gideon was a patriot raised up of God for the deliverance of Israel, who were under the iron heel of the Midianites. Called of God, he blew the trumpet in Mount Gilead, 32,000 men of Israel answered the summons but God said to him: 'The people are too many to deliver the Midianites into your hands, lest Israel should say they had delivered themselves.' So God made Gideon give them a test. He told his army that everybody who was fearful and afraid could go home and 22,000 became deserters. They had enlisted but were afraid to fight. Still God said, 'The people are yet too many,' and at the second test, Gideon selected the men who drank with their eye on the enemy and the other 9,700 were sent to their tents. Then going down to the enemies' camp he discovered that the doubters held sway, so he went back, and leaving the shirkers with him into the fight and won a great and glorious victory. Mark was a deserter. He fled from the young men on the night of the Master's arrest. He foresaw Paul during the hardships of a missionary journey. But he came back again and became Mark, the lion of Egypt. Thomas doubted the resurrection of his Lord because he was not in the Upper Room when the Lord appeared but the next Sunday night in the presence of the Risen Lord, his doubts were swept away and he cried out, 'My Lord and My God!'

Peter shirked the issue at the trial of our Lord by his denials but he repented bitterly and was restored again at a private interview with his Lord and became the Peter the Bold who said to the Sanhedrin, 'We ought to obey God rather than man.'

Then we come to Paul the Aged with his indomitable courage who, just before proceeding up the Appian Way to his execution, writes to Timothy, 'I know whom I believed and am persuaded that He is able to keep that which I have committed unto Him against that day.'

Deserters, doubters and shirkers can all become shouters in the great shout of Victory and be 'more than conquerors through Him that loved us and gave Himself for us.'

This afternoon at 4:00 Mr. Kindig will continue 'N's talk on 'The Heart', to the children. Yesterday he showed the many keys that failed to open it. Good Works, Morality, Religion, etc., failed, but Faith in Christ succeeded in opening it. Today he is going to show us the contents of the heart. All children are heartily welcome.

Prayer meeting in the east room of the church. All our Christian friends are earnestly urged to meet with us to pray. We meet at 7:00 p. m.

Evening service at 7:30 with Rev. and Mrs. Kindig in charge. This will be Young People's Night. All young people are invited to the choir. Won't you come? Come and hear the Marimba being played. The sermon theme will be, 'A Wrestling Match'. Come and hear all about it. There will be a Baptismal Service at the close of the evening service on Sunday night.

CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN

Cor. 3rd & Madison. B. C. Whitmore, Pastor. Sunday School at ten o'clock. Morning worship at eleven. The subject of the morning discourse will be, "If Any Man Thirst."

Christian Workers Society begins at seven, and the evening message will be given at 7:45. The subject will be "Spiritual Gold Mines."

A duet "My Only Hope," will be rendered at the morning service by

Many Dandruff Cures Harmful

By H. A. Ingalls, M. D.

Roswell, New Mexico

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Gorgas Memorial are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

Since time immemorial the hair and scalp have been neglected, with result that the term "dandruff" has resulted in a false conception as to what really constitutes dandruff. From the number of so-called "dandruff cures" on the market for many years, it is apparently little understood. The chemical study of many of these advertised remedies shows they have no therapeutic value, and that some are positively harmful for the hair and scalp.

Dandruff, from the average viewpoint, is the normal accumulation of the epithelial cells and sebaceous material that are to be found on the normal scalp, unless removed by frequent shampooing.

The body is constantly undergoing tissue change and the dead and useless material must be thrown off. In the skin, which includes the scalp, there are millions of small glands, called sebaceous, that furnish an oily secretion that softens and keeps pliable the covering organ of the body. It is this secretion that, following the shampoo, restores the luster and softens the hair within the period of a very short time, especially if the scalp is massaged and the hair brushed.

On the non-hairy portions of the body, the useless cells and oily secretions are washed and worn away, but on the scalp, if protected by hair, they must be removed by washing.

For this purpose the best material to us is soft water and a non-rasped soap having an oil base that will produce a good lather, and this should be used with friction to the scalp, using the fingers or a brush of moderate stiffness. When the cleansing process has been finished, clean, soft water must be used until all the soap and waste material have been removed.

The application of oils, or advertised preparations for the production of luster and combing qualities should be avoided.

The term "dandruff" in its true sense, should be used to describe that diseased condition of the sebaceous or oil producing glands that results in an excess flow of the natural oil, and that results in scalp irritation, which unless checked will result in baldness. This is marked by the accumulation of whitish scales, or crusts, that thickly cover the scalp and cling to the hair. Such a condition indicates need of the services of a specialist in skin diseases for its relief.

The scalp should be cleansed when dirty following exposure, but under normal conditions should not be shampooed more than once each month. The massage following a shampoo should not be vigorous enough to injure the hair and scalp. A brush should be applied to the scalp and the hair once or twice each twenty-four hours, thoroughly to restore circulation, which is sometimes disturbed by reason of tight fitting head gear.

AIR STATION TALK

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Work has started on the new 25,000-watt transmitter of WBBM, Chicago.

Plans are being made for the formal dedication of the new 5,000-watt transmitter of KNK, Hollywood, recently completed.

Charles W. Hamp, actor, singer and entertainer, is presenting his program over KDKA, Pittsburgh. Previous to that he was heard from WTAM, Cleveland.

Memorial services at which the medical profession will honor Dr. Hideyo Noguchi, Japanese scientist, will be broadcast by WLW, Cincinnati, next Sunday afternoon.

With the change in wave length WGBS, New York, has been reorganized, the license being transferred to the General Broadcasting System, Inc.

A Chicago dance orchestra is playing over the Columbia chain of stations, beginning at midnight Eastern Time each Tuesday and Thursday.

WJR, Detroit, each Thursday evening is presenting a University of Michigan hour. The program consists of music and educational features.

Short wave signals from WGY's companion transmitters, carrying election returns, were heard in South America, Germany and Hawaii, according to messages to the station.

Two chains are presenting a program given by the same sponsor. It goes over NBC on Sunday evenings and from CBS on Friday evenings. The program consists of quartet melodies.

Obed Pickard, whose "one man orchestra" formerly was a feature of the Saturday night "Grand Old Opry" from WSM, Nashville, has signed a forty-weeks contract to appear with his family over a chain broadcast from WJZ each Friday night.

A checkup of the signals from the new transmitter of KFI, Los Angeles, is being made by amateur operators who are members of the A. R. R. L. Among reports received by the station was one from H. L. Sherwood of Albuquerque, N. M., who said he got KFI at noon with good speaker volume.

Added evidence that radio is discovering hidden talents of the blind has come from singing contests of the second national audition, in which four sightless girls won state or city championships. They are: Elizabeth Street of Alexander City, Ala., Alabama state winner; Ruth Hoppe, winner of the Fond du Lac, Wis., contest; Hazel Jackson, winner of the Springfield, Ill., contest, and Miss Jane Mack, winner of Flint, Mich., local audition.

More Anecdotes About President-Elect are Told

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

Washington—One of the most popular anecdotes about Herbert Hoover has to do with the way he tackles a big problem of any kind. Theodore F. Whitmarsh explains as follows:

"When a problem confronts Mr. Hoover for which no solution seems to exist, it is his practice to get all his advisers together in his office, close the door, and announce that no problem is without its solution, and that the one in hand would be solved before the door would open to permit those present to leave. And it was always solved."

When Hoover entered the cabinet he found certain quirks of government organization a bit puzzling.

"I am almost as much mystified as Goldilocks to find so many official houses for bears in the government forests," he said once at a dinner.

For instance, I have found that the bears are placed under the care of the secretary of agriculture—although I didn't know they were domestic animals. Then the grizzly bears are under the care of the Department of the Interior, while my own Department of Commerce looks out for the polar bears."

It is hard to imagine the imperious Mr. Hoover in tears—but several men have seen him that way. Vernon Kellogg tells an appealing tale about an experience of Hoover's at Warsaw, while he was bringing food to the war-torn regions after the armistice. A children's parade was being staged in Hoover's honor. Just as the children were marching past, a rabbit darted out from somewhere across the line of march. Instantly the children forgot the parade, broke ranks, and went laughing after it, pell mell.

And as Hoover watched them he cried—with joy; he had proved to him that their little bodies were strong enough once more so that they could run and play and laugh.

At another city in Poland a similar parade of children was arranged. While waiting for it, Hoover was told that many of the children had had to walk miles to be in the parade.

"I can't stand this," he said, and he at once walked down in the direction from which the parade would come, thereby cutting in half the distance the children would have to march.

The most interesting Hoover anecdotes seem to center about his relief work, of one kind or another. When he was handling the Mississippi flood relief, someone asked him what was to be done with the scores of cats and dogs that homeless people had brought to the refugee camps.

"Take good care of them," said Hoover instantly. "These people haven't saved much. See that their pets are taken care of."

"But," said his informant, "some of them have got canaries, too."

Hoover turned to his secretary.

"Order some bird seed with the rest of those supplies and charge it to me," he said.

Shortly after his nomination last summer Hoover plunged so deeply into work at his Department of Commerce office that he did not have time to go out to lunch. Lunch trays were sent in to his office from a small lunch stand which an old lady operates in the building. Often, however, Hoover would be too busy to eat, and the trays would come back untouched. The lady began to be alarmed, fearing the mighty man's displeasure. Finally came word that Mr. Hoover wanted to see her. She was ushered into his office, in somewhat of a panic.

"Mrs. B—," said Hoover, "I've been thinking about you. It may have occurred to you that your service was not satisfactory. But that isn't true. I have enjoyed the food immensely and want to compliment you on it."

When King George was crowned, years ago, Hoover was in London. An American engineer asked him how he might get in on the show.

"Take my ticket," said Hoover. "I'd rather work on my Agricola."

This was the famous translation from a Latin work on metallurgy on which Mr. and Mrs. Hoover collaborated.

When the World War broke out, the United States ambassador in London called a meeting of prominent Americans there to work out means of helping stranded Americans home from Europe. Mr. Hoover arrived at the meeting late. He explained that he had stopped on the way to hire, on his own responsibility, the whole ballroom floor of the Savoy hotel, realizing that the American embassy offices would be too small to handle the big crowds. This was so obviously the most constructive suggestion of the day that Hoover was promptly elected chairman of the committee to take over the big job.

Later Ambassador Page called Hoover in, told him how the Belgian relief situation would have to be taken in hand, discussed the vast requirements of the job, and finally said abruptly: "Hoover, you're IT!"

Hoover glanced at the clock and promptly stepped out. It was several minutes before he came back, and the mystified Page asked him where he had been.

"I saw by the clock," said Hoover, "that it was an hour before the New York Exchange would close. So I went out and cabled an order for a few millions of bushels of wheat for those Belgians."

POLO PERSONALS

Polo—D. H. Guyer entertained thirty-two young folks at a banquet at the Methodist church Tuesday evening, the guests being students of the Polo Community High School who were members of the Methodist church. A fine chicken dinner was enjoyed. The table was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums, and the color scheme of the napkins, place cards, and candles used in the decorations were the high school colors, blue and gold. Mrs. Charles Lyons of Mt. Morris gave the principal talk of the evening, much to the enlightenment and interest of the young people. H. L. Guyer and Rev. Frank Hancock also gave short talks. The young people were represented by Fred Davis. A duet by Mary Hancock and Ruth Trump pleased the gathering. Music was furnished during the dinner by the Sunday School orchestra. Following the dinner games were enjoyed.

Mrs. Annie Florence entered the Dixon Hospital Wednesday where she will undergo an operation.

Mrs. George Byers planned a surprise in honor of her husband's 81st birthday Tuesday evening and invited the members of his Sunday school class of the Methodist church, of which A. J. Trump is teacher, to help him celebrate the event. There were 25 present. Mr. Byers gave his guests a very hearty welcome and the evening was very pleasantly spent. Mrs. James Davis delighted the party with several readings, and Messrs. A. J. Trump, J. V. Tavener and Wm. Stoner gave short talks. Mr. Byers was presented a beautiful basket of chrysanthemums. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Byers.

Following the regular meeting of the Royal Neighbor lodge Tuesday evening, a social time was enjoyed. The following program was given:

Instrumental Solo—Marjorie Piper. Recitation—Louise Stull. Recitation—Carrie Gilbert. Violin and Piano Duet—Gladys and Pauline Reback. Recitation—Bertha Gilbert. Vocal Duet—Mrs. Carl Zigler and June Zigler. Instrumental Duet—Mrs. Homadeau and Verna Homadeau.

Following the program a delicious scramble supper was enjoyed. There were about 50 present.

Mrs. Jennie Angle and daughter, Mrs. Ray Cramer, spent Wednesday in the Z. G. Reiff home at Freeport. Messrs. M. E. Schryver, E. H. Clopper and M. J. Naylon attended the funeral of Emmet Wilson at Rockford Wednesday.

Miss Marjorie Stult entertained the 500 club Tuesday evening. Miss Mildred Garman received the prize. Delicious refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Leber attended the funeral of the latter's aunt, Mrs.

Willis Garnhart at Rockford Thursday afternoon.

Miss Ina Reed and Mrs. Fred Graehling gave several numbers at a double piano recital given by the Woman's club at Stillman Valley on Wednesday evening.

A number from the local American Legion and Auxiliary attended the county meeting held at Oregon Thursday evening.

BUTTER AND EGG MONEY

"Where are you going, my pretty maid?"

"I'm going a-gold-digging, sir," she said.

"Then I can't wed you, my pretty maid."

"That'll cost you $50,000, sir," she said.—Judge.
